Shashank Mondrati
William Zhang
Connor Carroll

Group Expectations

1. We all agree to come to class prepared on every Tuesday
2. If a group member missed a class, the other group members will make sure to update the missed member via communication methods we've thought of.
3. If there are group assignments, we all agree to switch roles, so that every one in our group gets a fair chance to work on every position.
4. WE all agree to show up at every meeting conducted on Discord, or Zoom.
5. Make sure to assist each other at all times when having trouble completing or understanding assignments at any time.

We all certify that we have thoroughly read this contract and that we will abide by it. We are signing this contract at my own free will, and have initiated each of the above statements because we agree with it, and am willing to adhere to each clause. We understand that breach of contract will result in verbal reprimand on the first two instances, followed by immediate dismissal on the third instance. This contract is subject to be amended pending a unanimous vote within the group.

Preferred method of communication: We have settled on using Discord as our main source of communication. We have decided on this because we all have discord downloaded and we can receive alerts easier than using the Microsoft teams web app.
